NEW RULES ADOPTED BY LAW FACULTY

Regulations To Govern Grades
And Examinations In Future
Examinations

WILL NOT APPLY NOW

All Students Entering Hereafter Must Satisfy More Stringent
Scholarship Rules

New rules governing the system of examinations in the Law School were recently adopted by the law faculty after very careful considerations. Part of the rules are not to go into effect until after the January examinations. The provision as to grades and examinations for removal of conditions become applicable on and after May 1, 1925. Rule 3, which provides that no student may count more than 16 semester hours with the grade of D towards the degree of Bachelor of Laws does not apply to students now registered in the school, but will apply to all students registering hereafter, including those registering for the second semester of this year. Mid-year examinations this year will be conducted under the old system.

Following are the rules recently adopted by the Law School faculty:

1. In all examinations given after May 1, 1925, five grades will be given:

(1) A, excellent, 85-100.

(2) B, good, 75-84.

(3) C, pass, 65-74.

(4) D, conditional pass, 55-64.

(5) E, failure, below 55.

2. Unless a student in each academic year receives a grade above "E" in at least three-fourths of the semester hours in which he is registered (unless he is excused by the dean from taking the examination), and obtains an average grade of "C," he will be denied registration in the future; provided, however, that upon written application to the Scholarship Committee showing sufficient cause such student may be reinstated on such conditions as the committee may impose.

3. Not more than 16 semester hours with a grade of "D" may be counted toward a degree of Bachelor of Laws. This rule (No. 3) will not apply to students who entered prior to January 1, 1925.

4. An average of "C" in 80 hours of work will be required of all candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Laws.

5. No examinations for the removal of conditions will be given for any regular examination taken after May 1, 1925.

6. A student who receives a conditional or passing grade in any subject will not be permitted to take any subsequent examination in that subject without repeating the subject. A student who receives a grade of "C" in a single subject only, if he has a general average of "C" for that year, may take the next regular examination in that subject, and if on such reexamination he attains the grade of "C" he shall be credited with a grade of "D" (60) in the subject. A student who, with the consent of the dean, does not take the final examination in a subject with the class in which he is enrolled may take the next regular examination given in the subject.

7. No special examinations will be given after May 1, 1925, except under existing rules as to subjects, the final examinations in which are given in January, 1925; provided, that upon written application to the Scholarship Committee, showing sufficient cause, a candidate for a degree at a convocation before the next regular examination, if he would be entitled to take that examination, may, in the discretion of the committee, be given a special examination not less than 60 days after the one which he failed to take or to pass.

The important points about these changes are that the grade of "F" is abolished, and the grade of "E" changed from "condition" to "failure." The grade of "D," which is now the lowest passing grade, will be called "conditional pass," and the percentage for this grade has been changed so as to make the grade run from 55 to 64 instead of from 60 to 64 as at present.

The practice of giving "make-up" examinations to students who have made a condition, in which second examination a grade of "C" is required, will be abandoned under the new system, and a student receiving an "E" will be regarded as having failed in the subject; but under rule 6 a student

LOST OVERCOAT

In the confusion following the Senior Ball, Friday night, Hilory Tolson lost his overcoat, in the pocket of which was a Y. M. C. A. membership ticket, gloves, and scarf. His coat check was No. 135. Instead of his coat Tolson finally took the last remaining coat, check No. 71, which had no identification marks other than the trademark, "Livingston's, South Bend, Ind." Tolson is anxious to return this coat to the owner and also to get in touch with the party who has his overcoat. He may be reached at the Sigma Nu House, 1733 N Street N.W.

KEEN INTEREST SHOWN IN CHERRY TREE CONTEST

Sororities Grooming Their Favorites
Like A Proud Owner Grooms
His Racehorse

Announcement of the popularity contest to be conducted by the Cherry Tree has aroused the interest of the entire school. Sororities are already grooming their candidates, each publicly serene but privately anxious about the elections. Already many rumors are on the campus, and even a few "dope sheets" have been seen.

Plans for balloting are not fully complete, although other plans for the contest have been practically finished. However, ballots will, in all probability, be printed in the Hatchet in order to save the heavy expense of printing and mailing ballots to over 5,000 students. Ballots will be cast some time in February.

At a meeting of the Cherry Tree staff held Wednesday night in Lisner Hall, it was evident that all work on the Annual is progressing rapidly. Assignments previously made to members of the Art Staff were turned in and new work given out.

New appointments announced at the meeting practically complete the staff. Albert R. Beatty was made managing editor, Katherine Wright was appointed society editor, and Margaret Ober was put in charge of dramatics. Six staff members: Joseph Mendelson, Frances E. Cook, Edith F. Christie, Elizabeth Owen, Samuel Breslau and Dorothy Dealer were appointed to the staff to assist the managing editor. Students still desiring work on the staff should get in touch with Arthur Perry, editor, 1733 N St. N. W., or managing editor, Albert R. Beatty, P. O. Box 1471.

Perry feels fortunate in securing the services of Beatty, who comes to the staff with a wealth of experience. Editor of "The Comrade," state publication of the "Y" for several years, and member of the New Jersey State Boys Council, Perry describes Beatty as "another Bettelheim" for work.

It was also announced that the work of some nationally known cartoonists will be among the features of the new book.

FOUR LECTURES REMAIN IN HISTORY SERIES

"Golden Deeds of Egyptian Archeologists" is the topic of the lecture to be given Friday evening, January 23, by Jean Capart, professor of the history of art and archaeology, University of Brussels, C. R. B. visiting professor to America.

There are three remaining lectures in the history series now being given by the University, all to be held in the assembly room of Corcoran Hall.

Samuel F. Bemis, professor of history, George Washington University, will speak on Tuesday evening, February 24. Subject, "The Historical Background of Washington's Farewell Address."

On Wednesday evening, March 11, Elmer Louis Kayser, associate professor of history and secretary of George Washington University, will speak on "The Renaissance Man."

The last lecture of the series will be given some time during April by J. Holland Rose, Vere-Harnsworth professor of naval history, Cambridge University.

Wandering Greeks Dinner

Wandering Greeks will meet for their regular monthly dinner at the University Club on Tuesday evening, February 3, at 7:15. All Wandering Greeks in the University are invited, whether members of the Association or not.

STUDENTS TO LEAD IN DRIVE FOR FUNDS

Student Committee Will Open
Active Campaign To Increase
Endowment To $700,000

DRIVE STARTS FEBRUARY 1

Committee Plans to Canvass All
Students Who Have Not Yet
Subscribed

Seven hundred thousand dollars will be the total raised by the University in its Building and Endowment campaign when the present school year is completed, if the plans of University officials are brought to the conclusion expected. Of this sum five hundred thirty-five thousand dollars has already come in from alumni all over the country, faculty and students. The campaign will begin on February first.

Much of the success of the national campaign depends on the outcome of the student drive, according to President Lewis. In a recent message to the Student Committee, Dr. Lewis emphasized the fact that alumni and friends of the University look first at the work of the students, and to a great extent base their contributions on that. Last year the tremendous response from the students did much to make the national campaign as wide a success as it was.

Organization of the students who will take charge of the drive here is practically completed and committees will be announced this week, according to Henry James, Student Chairman. The whole city will be covered during the first two weeks in February, all new students having a chance to learn more about the campaign, and its work and aims. All students are to be given an opportunity to subscribe unless they have already done so.

The success of this drive for one hundred sixty-five thousand dollars will, to a great measure, insure the completion of the fund of a million dollars by next year, President Lewis believes. This fund is to be divided equally between the building fund, and the permanent Endowment Fund. One building, Corcoran Hall, has already been completed and another, Stockton Hall has been started. With the success of this drive rests the erection of the third unit on the corner of Twenty-first and H Streets next fall, and the subsequent completion of the plain of occupying the entire block.

JUNIORS TO HOLD PROM IN MAYFLOWER BALLROOM

Meyer Davis And Le Paradis To Furnish Music For Prom
And Reception

The Junior Prom will be held in the ballroom of the new Mayflower Hotel on February 27 with the two Meyer Davis organizations, including the Le Paradis Band furnishing the music, according to present plans. The week, headed by Robert Pollock as chairman, is this year endeavoring to stage the most successful Junior Week yet given by any class and still keep costs down as much as possible.

The Junior Reception, which marks the official opening of the Junior Week program of social activities, will be held in Corcoran Hall immediately following the convention ceremonies, on Monday, February 23, according to an announcement recently made by Ruth Williams, chairman of the Reception Committee. Music for the reception will also be furnished by Meyer Davis.

In an effort to place responsibility upon the various committee chairmen this year the Junior Class Presidents have given each chairman the privilege of selecting his own vice-chairman and committee members. The class presidents meet each Sunday to receive reports of the committee chairmen.

LAW SENIORS, NOTICE

All Seniors in the Law School who expect to graduate in February are requested to register with Joseph A. Jordan, secretary of the Law School, as promptly as possible. This must be done before graduation.

IRRIGATION LAW

Students who would register for a course in water rights and irrigation law, two hours a week, the second semester of this year from 7.50 to 8.40 on two mornings a week, if such a course is given, are asked to hand in their names in writing to the secretary of the Law School not later than Saturday, January 24. If 20 students state their desire for this course an effort will be made to have one given. The giving of this course cannot, however, be definitely promised at this time.

WORLD COURT UPHELD BY DEBATING SOCIETY

Affirmative Scores Decision On Ground
Court Not Affiliated With League

"Resolved, That the United States Adhere to the Protocol Establishing an International Court of Justice, with the Hughes Reservations," was the question before the Columbian Debating Society at their meeting in the Law School Friday night, January 16. A vote of the members awarded the decision to the affirmative, Washington Irving Cleveland and Ray Crowell receiving first and second honors, respectively.

The affirmative held that the World Court is a separate and distinct entity from the League of Nations. It contended, first, that adherence to the court is in keeping with American tradition and policy; second, that the court is of American origin and design; third, that it has already performed unparalleled service; and, fourth, that this country has everything to gain and nothing to lose by such adherence.

The negative argued that no single benefit would be derived from the court which we do not now enjoy; that the League of Nations is closely tied up with the World Court; that adherence to it would be unconstitutional; and that foreign entanglements are against the traditional policy of this country.

The affirmative side was composed of Washington Irving Cleveland and Harry Price, while Ray Crowell and Francis Clements made up the negative. W. I. Cleveland, it will be recalled, was a member of the George Washington debating team that last year defeated Oxford. Ray Crowell is a member of the present varsity team and president of the society.

A motion was passed postponing the next meeting until the first Friday in February. The names of Howard Bursley and Manuel Smallwood were announced as having been elected to membership.

FOUR DRAMATIC CLUBS TO FORM ASSOCIATION

All members of the four dramatic societies of George Washington will meet Wednesday night, February 11, at 8:00 o'clock in Corcoran Hall at which time the Dramatic Association of George Washington University will be formed.

This association is to be composed of the four dramatic organizations, the Players, Mimes, Dionysians and Troubadours. The February meeting will hereafter be held on the second Wednesdays of October, December, February and April of each school year.

The object of the Association will be to foster dramatic activities in the University, and to encourage the presentation of at least one varsity play each year by each of the member societies in conjunction with their regular work. It is also hoped that more funds may be available in the future for dramatic work and a joint stage and all dramatic properties will be used by all.

Professor Bolwell, Faculty Chairman of the Dramatic Council, is anxious to have a large attendance at this joint meeting. All students interested in dramatics are eligible.

ASSISTANTS NEEDED

C. U. NETMEN TAKE FAST COURT BATTLE

Maroon-Clad Squad Comes From Behind To Take Fast Game
From Hatchetites

BOWEN OUTSTANDING STAR

Return Game Will Be Played On Home Floor On February 23

Catholic University's Maroon and Black hoopers came from behind and defeated the Buff and Blue five, 24 to 20, in a fast and hard-fought court battle played in the Brooklanders' gymnasium last Wednesday night.

The Maroon and Black combination did not cinch the battle until the closing minutes of one of the fastest court contests ever seen on a local floor. A floor goal by Keale and two foul shots by Donohue proved their margin of victory.

A good crowd watched the two teams battle through 40 minutes of hurricane basketball, teaming with spectacular shots and fast floor work. Bowen, star Hatchet guard, was the only one of Coach Jack Daily's men who seemed able to locate the netting with any degree of accuracy, and his six floor goals featured the contest. Captain Dowd played a strong game as defensive forward, and led a five-man defense that Catholic U. was only able to pierce in the closing minutes of the fray.

Donohue, Maroon and Black guard, led the attack for the victors with three floor goals to his credit. Kenney and Keale also counted heavily in the scoring. Each team sunk eight shots from scrimmage, the margin of victory resting with Catholic University being gained from the free-shot line.

George Washington got away to a whirlwind start, and before the Brookland boys had warmed up to the battle had garnered a 7 to 10 lead. Bowen caged the first shot of the fray a few seconds after the tap-off, and sank another from midcourt a few minutes later. Sawyer duplicated Bowen's long shot with one that cleared the ring, and Bowen dropped in a free toss before the C. U. hoopers were able to locate the net. Bailey caged a potshot for the first Brookland score.

From then on the battle waxed fast and furious, the ball constantly changing from one end of the court to the other. Just before the half ended Donohue and Kenney caged floor shots that gave the home team a two-point lead, the half ending with the count 11-9.

About the middle of the last period the Brooklanders began to locate the basket with persistency, breaking through the airtight Hatchet defense for a series of goals that sent the count to 24-16. With the Maroon and Black team stalling for time, the Hatchetites fought vainly to overcome the lead. Bowen broke through twice before the gong sounded, and sent the score to 24-20.

Catholic University meets George Washington in a return engagement February 23 in the Hatchet gym.

K.-D. SCHOLARSHIP CUP WON BY "A" STUDENT

Virginia Ronsaville, a member of the Sophomore Class, was presented a silver loving cup in Chapel last Wednesday for having the highest average of any girl in the Freshman Class last year. The cup was awarded by Kappa Delta Sorority and presented by Dean Rose.

Miss Ronsaville is especially deserving of this cup, having received four A's and a B the first half of the term and five A's the second half. A graduate of Central High School, she received the Kendall Scholarship, which is awarded to that student who makes the highest grade in competitive examinations. She is a member of Zeta Tau Alpha Sorority.

This is the first year that Kappa Delta has awarded this cup, and they are planning to make it an annual event.

LIBRARY HOURS 2.30 TO 9

The University Library will be open during the next week from 2.30 to 9 o'clock. It is also suggested that students desiring to study at school during exam week may use any of the vacant classrooms.

EDUCATION BY RADIO

A student may soon be able to change colleges merely by changing the wave length of his radio set if radio schools being established in some institutions prove successful. Buildings and athletic fields will no longer be an important item in the composition of a university. Practically all that will be necessary will be a first-class radio broadcasting station, an invisible student body which will pay no tuition and cut no classes, and a few professors who can proceed with their lecture without first calling the roll.

From Germany reports have been received that a Radio university named the Hans Bredow School in honor of Dr. Bredow, State Secretary, who was most influential in spreading radio throughout Germany, was recently opened with a faculty composed of the most famous scholars of that country. In our own country it was recently announced that the Kansas State Agricultural College has established a radio college which will broadcast forty college extension courses during the next eight months; and Mercer University of Macon, Georgia, according to recent reports, will make it possible for radio students to complete a college course without the necessity of attending classes or taking correspondence work. A series of four college courses will soon be offered. Students in the radio class will be asked to send in their names, reports on home assignments, and requests of additional courses—maybe the degree will even be sent by radio in time.

At this rate of development along educational lines it will not be many years until there will be little excuse for anyone to lack the essentials of a liberal college education.

YES, WHY HAVE ONE?

"What's the use of having games with good teams?" is the complaint made by a number of loyal Buff and Blue supporters who witnessed the first two basketball games of the season, the first in our own gymnasium and the second on the Catholic University court. This is even more true of the swimming meet with Catholic U. last Friday night, which netted George Washington a victory of 48 to 23.

Probably students are justified in their criticism of our athletic schedules, but assuredly the criticism of these others is justified. Why should we schedule games with other institutions, football, basketball or anything else, if students will not show enough interest in them to attend the games? Why should those students who lack interest enough to attend such events be qualified to criticize athletic schedules prepared by the officials?

At the opening basketball game of the season, at which the new gymnasium was dedicated to sports, less than 150 students were present. At the Catholic University game, which is reported to be one of the fastest games seen on a local court in several years, less than two dozen were on hand to cheer for their team. Two lonely George Washington students who must have been lost found their way out to the C. U. pool last Friday night to witness a victory for the first George Washington swimming team organized in several.

What can be done to remedy this apparent lack of interest? Can it be by the organization of another Faculty Committee? We think not. Can it be by calling regular "pep" meetings before the games just as in the football season? This would probably help; but how many would attend such meetings? Could it be done by placing responsibility upon student leaders to see that students are at the games? This would probably help also—but the thing most needed is a little interest on the part of the student body. Why call ourselves a part of the University if we are not willing or able to associate ourselves with those things which are supposed to be of vital interest to the students in any university?

WHY MEN LEAVE HOME

Students and University officials have been cooperating this year in an effort to have most of the student social functions held in University buildings, but a few more incidents like the termination of the Senior Ball last week are liable to have a very unwholesome effect upon those students attending such functions. They may justly be criticised for not cooperating with the officials if they decline to repeat such experiences, but they assuredly cannot be criticised for wanting to hold their social functions where they can be reasonably sure their property will be properly protected.

Both through lack of proper checkroom facilities and of competent checkroom attendants several students are now wondering how they are going to secure an overcoat or hat, or maybe both, to wear the rest of the winter. No system was used in checking coats, and sufficient room and facilities were not provided for taking care of guests.

Before the dance was over every Tom, Dick, and Harry had access to the checkroom. Nobody could find what belonged to him. Ten minutes after the dance was over the men's checkroom had been mobbed and coats and hats of every description were strewn all over the floor. A few were fortunate enough to find their own; others were apparently more fortunate and found more than belonged to them, because still others were finally compelled to depart after having searched in vain for a hat or a coat, and in some instances both.

And the loss was not confined to students of the University. Guests who are not attending the University are among the unfortunate ones. Students, if they are loyal enough to their Alma Mater and have a sufficient disregard for their property may possibly overlook such an occurrence—but an outsider, never.

The incident was unfortunate and deeply regretted by officers of the Senior Classes. They are willing to do all they can to rectify the damage done. But it is evident that students must have some assurance of courteous treatment and proper protection of their property.

IOWA OFFERS COURSES IN DRAMATIC TRAINING

Expert, automatic solutions for the problems of teachers of English and speech in the fields of dramatics and voice training are promised by the speech department of the University of Iowa to those graduate and undergraduate students who register for the 1925 summer session courses. Reasons for such promises, announced by Prof. E. C. Mabie, head of the department, are that Chester Wallace, a professional New York stage director and head of the Carnegie Institute school of the drama, and Oliver W. Larkin of Smith college, director of the Settlement theatre in Boston, will be members of the Iowa summer session faculty.

These two men with Professor Mabie, director of the University of Iowa theatre, will cover the field of dramatics in the 1925 summer session courses. The mobilization of such a staff is a direct outgrowth, they say, of the growing demand in high schools and grades for more stage work in the educational process.

Professor Wallace will teach the direction, rehearsal and performance of plays and public programs. The advantage of extensive American and European stage training is expected to make Professor Larkin's courses in theatre settings, costumes, and scenic designing unusually interesting. Professor Mabie will teach the dramatic uses of light and color and the high school play.

The work in dramatics during the second term of the summer session will be in charge of Prof. W. H. R. Trumbauer, who will give special work in the history of theatrical art and direction. Four outdoor plays will form a prominent part of the practical work in dramatics during first term of the summer session. A group of plays will also be given during the second term.

PORTO RICAN DELEGATE PRESENTS LIBRARY BOOK

The Hon. Felix Cordova Davila, Resident Commissioner of Porto Rico, presented the University Library with a book, "The Book of Porto Rico," on the occasion of his address before the Circulo Espanol Tuesday, January 13, in Corcoran Hall. The book, a beautifully bound volume, is now in the Library for use. The other speaker of the evening was Prof. Jose Llorens, of the Washington Missionary College.

On the following night, January 14, another meeting of interest to Spanish students was held in Corcoran Hall. Dr. Alfonso Robledo, former Minister of Finance of Columbia, addressed the fourteenth meeting of the Spanish-American Athenaeum, of which Professor Doyle is president.

TO DEBATE SYRACUSE DURING JUNIOR WEEK

One of the gala events of Junior Week will be a debate against Syracuse University Saturday evening, February 28, on the question, "Resolved, That the Supreme Court of the United States Shall Have the Final Power to Declare Federal Statutes Unconstitutional." This is the first visit Syracuse has made to Washington and is marked as another step forward in the debating schedule of George Washington. Manager Edwin S. Bettelheim has also announced that a debate is being arranged with Princeton University, to take place here March 3, on the eve of the presidential inauguration.

EPISCOPAL CLUB ELECTS PERMANENT OFFICERS

Constitution Adopted And Final Organization Effected—To Meet February 13

A special meeting of the newly organized Episcopal Club of George Washington University was held in Corcoran Hall Thursday evening, January 15, 1925, for the purpose of electing officers.

For president of this club the society unanimously decided to retain its acting chairman, Philip Dimon. Robert Albright, who is publicity agent for the organization, was chosen vice-president. The society also decided to retain its acting secretary, Mildred Volandt, in the same capacity. For the office of corresponding secretary Elizabeth Gladman was chosen, while W. C. Brooke was elected treasurer.

The constitution of the club has been approved by Dean Rose, chairman of the Committee on Social Relations, and the organization has the official stamp of approval of the University as a recognized school activity.

At the next meeting, to be held February 13, 1925, the constitution will be signed by those accepting it and becoming members. This will be the only formal ceremony in connection with joining the organization.

At the same meeting it is expected that the chaplain, to be appointed in the meantime by the Bishop of the Diocese of Washington, will be present. Standing committees will also be appointed at that time.

HATCHETTE COURT SQUAD TO MEET DREXEL QUINTET

Third Game of Season Will Be Played Wednesday Night on Home Floor

Tomorrow evening the Hatchet hoopmen meet the strong Drexel Institute five from Philadelphia. Coach Daily has had his team working overtime every day since the Catholic University battle, and is highly pleased with their showing in practice sessions. He is expected to start the same team against the Quakers that he used last Wednesday night.

Little is known of the relative strength of the two teams, but the Hatchetmen feel confident of victory, due to their excellent showing last week. The game to be played in the Hatchet gymnasium will start at eight o'clock. Student activity coupons will be honored for admittance.

At a special meeting of the Dionysians on January 14, a program of three English folk plays, "Robin Hood and the Friar," Mr. Bentley in charge; the Ampleforth Sword Dance Play, under the direction of Miss Becker; and the Coventry Hock Tuesday Show, in charge of Miss Croissant, was adopted. Miss Doerr was appointed to arrange the folk dances which are a part of the plays.

BASEBALL MEN URGED TO TRYOUT FOR TEAM

Regular Practice Being Held In Gym,
With Fifteen Hurlers
Competing

Installation of cages for pitchers and catchers in the gymnasium has been completed and a formidable array of batteries have begun practice. Eliminations among the 15 aspirants for the position on the mound, however, will not take place until the hurlers have had sufficient practice to assure a fair tryout. The interest and talent displayed during the past few days augurs well for the success this season of George Washington University's first varsity baseball team in five years.

Engagements with the University of Richmond and Mount St. Mary's teams have been made. The St. Mary's game will be played on the 30th of May; the Richmond game some time in April. These engagements place two additional strong teams in a schedule which at present includes Gallaudet College, Juniata College, and the Quantico Marines. Manager Ernest Klein expects to have Western Maryland and St. John's in the schedule in the near future. A difficulty in securing games arose from the fact that nearly all of the colleges desired to play at Washington, which would not be possible, because the George Washington University Athletic Council had not as yet been able to appropriate sufficient funds.

Outdoor practicing will begin as soon as the weather permits, although a coach has not yet been chosen. A large number of field applicants will then be called and a grueling program instituted to whip the team into shape for its earlier engagements. A considerable sum has been expended, particularly on balls and gloves, and every player will be well equipped. Manager Klein feels that the success of the team hinges upon the work done in the two boxes, and urges all students interested in battery work to report to him immediately.

PALLAS ATHENE SOCIETY EFFECTS ORGANIZATION

At the second meeting of the Writers and Philosophers Club of George Washington a constitution was adopted, permanent organization effected, and the name changed to Pallas Athene Society. Thelma Cornerly was elected president, Corley P. McDormont was elected vice-president, and Ailene Loveland secretary-treasurer.

Selection of appointive officers will be announced at the next meeting of the society which will be held at 8:00 o'clock Wednesday, January 28, in Corcoran Hall.

Membership in the society is limited to 20 students who must be registered in the University for courses leading to a degree. Written applications for membership must be filed with the secretary-treasurer, and must receive the unanimous approval of the membership committee.

Miss Loveland entertained the society and refreshments were served at its last meeting.

"SILVER ROD" EXPIRES

Editors of "The Silver Rod," proposed literary magazine to have been introduced upon the campus, announce that the magazine will not be published, due to lack of sufficient copy. Some months ago students were asked to turn in stories, poems, and literary selections. Few contributions were received, however, and the management, rather than publish an inferior magazine, has given up the project altogether.

GIRLS' FENCING SQUAD PLAN OPEN EXHIBITION

With 30 girls in the four fencing classes, plans are now being made to elect two more assistant managers. Fencing is the only sport in school that gives credit for merely working for a team, and there are more night students out for fencing than for any other girls' sport.

At present students are allowed to fence only with their master, Pietro Lanzilli. However, they will soon be given more advanced work and will probably give an exhibition in March. Students interested in fencing may still secure a berth on the squad.

HATCHET SWIMMERS SCORE TANK VICTORY

G. W. Squad Outclasses Catholic U. Mermen In Taking 48-23 Victory

WIN SEVEN FIRST PLACES

Varsity Swimmers Have Also Taken Honors In Two Practice Meets

By winning seven firsts and scoring in every event, George Washington University's men swimming team overwhelmed Catholic University Friday night in the Brookland tank, 48-23.

The best showing by Catholic U. was in the 60-yard breast stroke; in which, with Claudy of George Washington declared ineligible, they captured the first two places. However, the Brooklanders made a good showing in the 40 and 220-yard swims.

Both schools were handicapped by having men unable to compete. Claudy and Schultz, of G. W., were declared ineligible the day of the meet. Simmons was called away by the death of his father. Estabes, star point winner for C. U., was taken ill at the last moment.

Peter and Stover, of George Washington, shared individual honors with 10 points each. Peter won the 40 and the 220, while Stover was first in the 60-yard back stroke and the 100. Stover has not worked on the back stroke since early in the season, but was forced to swim the event because of the ineligibility of Schultz.

This was the Hatchetmen's third victory of the season, having previously defeated Devitt Prep 33-19, and Central High 34 to 28, in practice meets.

The next collegiate meet of the year will be with Swarthmore, there, February 7. The C. U. meet was the Hatchetites only Washington meet.

A summary of events follows:

Relay—160 yards—(G. W.) Newby, Redfield, Peter and Stover. Time: 1:27.1.

Fancy diving—Lyman (G. W.) first; Mangum (C. U.) second; Newby (G. W.) third.

40-yard dash—Peter (G. W.) first; Lehigh (C. U.) second; Redfield (G. W.) third. Time: 22 seconds.

60-yard back stroke—Stover (G. W.) first; Stephenson (G. W.) second; Farrell (C. U.) third. Time: 45 seconds.

220-yard swim—Peter (G. W.) first; Fitzgerald (C. U.) second; Alexander (G. W.) third. Time: 2:49.1.

Plunge for distance—Stansfield (G. W.) first; Howe (C. U.) second; Gallagher (C. U.) third. Distance: 60 feet in 30.1 seconds.

60-yard breast stroke—Lehigh (C. U.) first; Sullivan (C. U.) second; Tabb (G. W.) third; Lyman (G. W.) disqualified. Time: 49.1 seconds.

100-yard swim—Stover (G. W.) first; Redfield (G. W.) second; Biberstein (C. U.) third. Time: 1:31.1.

Officials—Referee and starter, Captain E. Colby, U. S. A.; Judges, H. T. Knight, Washington Canoe Club, and Jack Parsons, Y. M. C. A.; Timers: H. and F. R. Miller, Washington Canoe Club.

ALPHA KAPPA KAPPA INITIATE EIGHT PLEDGES

Amid the mysterious and weird rites peculiar to a medical fraternity, eight trembling and much humbled neophytes were duly inducted into the rights and privileges of Alpha Kappa Kappa Fraternity last Friday night. Among these was Dr. Moss, well known in the University as professor of psychology.

The initiates had all been carefully selected from among the pledges, at a meeting held some days previous, when the fraternity also elected officers. The following men became members of the local chapter of A. K. K.: Dr. Fred A. Moss, Dr. John B. Copping, Louis J. Lista, Damaso Talavera, Edwin E. Zeigler, John N. Wilson, Jr., J. H. Davila, and M. F. Ottman.

This was the first initiation of the year and will soon be followed by another. As for those just initiated, it is rumored that the mantels at home were put to a new use.

SWIMMING SQUAD WINS FIRST PRACTICE MEET

Former Central Star Leads Scorers, Winning One First And Two Seconds

George Washington University nosed out Central High School men's swimming team in a practice meet the evening of January 12th in the Racquet Club pool, 34-28.

The winning of the relay with eight points to the victors gave the Hatchetmen the margin of victory.

Paul Peter, former Central star, was high point man, with eight points—a first in the 100 and second in the 40. Peter also swam on the winning relay team. Stansfield, former South Atlantic plunge champion, was defeated by Mitchell of Central, who plunged 60 feet in the fast time of 27 4/5 seconds.

A summary of events follows:

Relay—(G. W.) Lyman, Redfield, Peter and Stover.

40-yard swim—Farrell (Central) first; Peter (G. W.) second, and Stover (G. W.) third.

Fancy diving—Newby and Lyman (G. W.), and Hunter (Central).

60-yard breast stroke—Edmonston (Central) first; Lyman (G. W.) second, and Clady (G. W.) third.

Plunge for distance—Mitchell (Central) first; Stansfield (G. W.) second, and McNeill (Central) third.

60-yard back stroke—Raine (Central) first; Stephenson (G. W.) second, and Schultz (G. W.) third.

220-yard swim—Stover (G. W.) first; Smith (Central) second, and Hunter (Central) third.

100-yard swim—Peter (G. W.) first; Taylor (Central) second, and Redfield (G. W.) third.

No time was kept in any event.

TWO NOTED SPEAKERS AT A. S. M. E. MEETING

Ernest Hartford, national secretary of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, Committee on Relations with Other Colleges, and Lieutenant Commander E. E. Wilson, aircraft expert, of the Bureau of Aeronautics of the Navy Department, were the principal speakers at the meeting of the George Washington Student Branch of the A. S. M. E. held last Thursday evening in Corcoran Hall. Secretary Hartford has just returned to the East from an extensive tour of the Pacific coast region and gave an interesting account of student-branch activities in other institutions. He urged the local student branch to establish relations with the members of the Washington Section of the A. S. M. E.

Lieutenant Commander Wilson delivered an illustrated lecture on aircraft engines, tracing their development during the past 25 years, making special reference to the American designs, including the static-radial, straight and V-type engines with their accessories and stressed the need for dependable accessories and improved motor fuels for aircraft engines.

Gilbert K. Ludwig, president of the local student branch, stated that the A. S. M. E. picture for the Cherry Tree will be taken in the first week of February. He also asked all members wishing to deliver student papers before the society to communicate with Robert Best, chairman of the Program Committee.

EMERSON CLUB DANCE SCHEDULED FOR FEB. 6

The Emerson Club of George Washington University will hold an informal dance at the Franklin Square Hotel Friday, February 6. The students of the University and of Emerson Institute are invited. Tickets may be obtained from the members of the club.

WESTERN CAGEMEN DEFEAT EASTERN FIVE

Eastern Second And Central Third In Race For Scholastic Crown

Western Hill School now stands at the top of the list in the District High School Basketball Tournament, due to their win over the Eastern cagemen, 22 to 16, last Tuesday in the Central gymnasium, and their 53 to 11 victory over the Tech High basketballers last Saturday on the G. W. U. floor.

Before a capacity crowd the big maroon team swept the Easterns off their feet, administering to them the first defeat they have received in a high school series in two years. Western's five-man defense worked to perfection, while the Georgetown players slipped through the Capitol Hill defense for frequent scores.

While Western was running roughshod over the Capitol Hill quintet, Central was administering a 32 to 21 defeat on the Business High five in the George Washington gymnasium. The Stenographers proved no match for the speedy Central boys, and were soon left far in the rear. Hale led the Blue and White with four field goals to his credit. For the Stenographers Stewart, at forward, was best, and with 13 points to his credit, was the high scorer of the contest.

Western and Tech went into last Saturday morning's contest tied for first place, but the Manual Trainers were totally unable to cope with the big Red and White team from across Rock Creek. The final score of 53 to 11 shows that there can scarcely be any comparison between the two teams.

Eastern came back strong Saturday afternoon, and by decisively defeating Business High 29 to 13, gave evidence that they are still in the running. The game was also played in the G. W. U. gymnasium.

The High School series now stands as follows:

	Won	Lost	Pct.
Western	2	0	1000
Eastern	2	1	.667
Central	1	1	.500
Tech	1	1	.500
Business	0	3

COUNCIL AWARDS SCHOLARSHIP CUPS

Phi Delta Phi Law Fraternity
Wins Cup Offered For Professional Group

ACACIA WINS SOCIAL CUP

All Professional Fraternities Rank
Above Highest Social Group
In Scholarship

Phi Delta Phi, International Law Fraternity, is the winner of the cup offered by the Interfraternity Council for the professional fraternity with the highest scholastic average for the year 1923-24. The cup offered by the same organization to the social fraternities with the highest average was won by Acacia. Phi Delta Phi members showed an average of 3.752, while Acacia rated 3.108.

Phi Alpha Delta and Delta Theta Phi, also Law fraternities, followed in the order named in the professional group, having averages of 3.434 and 3.198 respectively. All the professional fraternities had higher ratings than the highest social fraternity.

Second in the social group was Sigma Alpha Epsilon, with a showing of 2.913. The rest of the competing fraternities followed in the order named. Theta Delta Chi, Kappa Sigma, Phi Sigma Kappa, Sigma Nu, Sigma Phi Epsilon. The general average of the professional group was 3.461, and of the social group 2.824.

Phi Chi, professional medical fraternity, did not submit a list of members, and were therefore not considered as competing. Among the social organizations Sigma Chi, Delta Tau Delta, and Kappa Alpha were barred for the same reason. Theta Upsilon Omega could not be taken into consideration, not having been a member of the Interfraternity Council during the year in question.

Under the provisions of the new constitution recently adopted by the Interfraternity Association a scholarship cup was to be granted to the fraternity having the highest scholastic average in both the professional and social groups. However, more recently this action was made retroactive to apply for last year's averages. In former years only one scholarship cup has been awarded by the Association.

PRESENT SHORT PROGRAM AT TROUBADOURS MEETING

A short program with several vocal solos rendered by Ruth Hutchinson and Jeanne Herbert and readings given by Annabelle Lloyd and Pearl Wetmore, featured the meeting of the Troubadours last Thursday evening. Jerry Wolfe also played several musical numbers on the piano as well as accompanying Miss Herbert and Miss Hutchinson.

After the program Alberico Pompa tried the voices of a number of students who are interested in the presentation of the musical comedy. Some of the members will probably be called upon some time during the next few weeks to put together the first scene of the play. Maxine deSilvia and Evelyn Davis are in charge of the chorus dancing for the play. Plans have been made to form a jazz orchestra to play for the Troubadours.

The date of the next meeting has not been announced, as it will be impossible to hold it on the set date, which is the second Wednesday of each month.

P.A.D. LAW FRATERNITY INITIATE FOUR PLEDGES

Banquet Given Prior To Initiation Attended By About Sixty Members

The John Jay Chapter of the Phi Alpha Delta Law Fraternity on Thursday night, January 15, 1925, held a dinner and smoker in the Lee House, Fifteenth and L, N.W., followed by a lively initiation of four pledges.

About 60 active and alumni members were seated about the dinner table, which smacked of the very choicest of foods. Included among those present were Hon. Huston Thompson, Commissioner of the Federal Trade Commission; Hon. Clyde B. Aitchison, chairman of the Interstate Commerce Commission; and Prof. Hector G. Spaulding, of the Law School, all honorary members of the local chapter.

Following the dinner Hon. Huston Thompson and Hon. Clyde B. Aitchison exchanged wits, and the auditors, in their laughter, soon took on a semblance of uproarousness. Mr. Cane, one of the initiates, "pepped up" the crowd with his famous songs, entitled "The Ladies," by Kipling, and "Wild, Bad Bill." Then Professor Spaulding, upon the insistence of the chapter, sang several classical songs, only to be requested to sing more.

The real works, however, began when the time came for the goats to undergo the initiation prepared for them. The victims were Richard Akers, Herbert Abrams, Ben Cane, and Edward L. Updike. This feature of the program capped the climax of an already lively affair. The members of the chapter in applying their tactics proved themselves expert exponents of the "third degree," but the initiates finally thwarted the efforts of the assembly to castrate their ambitions to become full-fledged members of Phi Alpha Delta.

MASONIC CLUB PLANS 'FACULTY NIGHT' MEETING

At the business meeting of the George Washington Masonic Club held last Wednesday evening it was decided to term the meeting to be held on February 11 "Faculty Night." Several members of the faculty have sent in their petitions, and it is desired that every member of the faculty who is a Mason will sign a petition and present it on or before the date of the next meeting. Those whose petitions are accepted will be initiated at that time.

In addition to the faculty petitions, many student Masons have sent in their petitions, and they will also be initiated at the same meeting. After the initiation refreshments will be served. All Masons of the University are cordially invited to be present at the Gavel Club rooms on February 11.

DRAWS LUCKY NUMBER FOR CHI OMEGA HOPE CHEST

A hope chest and contents, raffled off by the Chi Omega fraternity Monday evening, January 12, was won by Miss Kate M. Wright, spinster, of 1832 Biltmore Street.

Proceeds of the sale of chances will go towards the annual sociology prize, which is given each year to the student of George Washington University submitting the best essay on a sociological subject.

The contents of the chest were furnished by the members of the fraternity, and many of the pieces were of handwork. Among its contents was found many beautiful and useful articles, such as a handmade linen luncheon set, a bridge set, six guest towels, scarfs, centerpieces, bed linens, and a boudoir lamp made up as a doll dressed in colonial style.

PHI CHI INITIATE SEVEN

Phi Chi Medical Fraternity last Saturday night, in a series of mystic events, led seven neophytes across the borderline that separates an ordinary medical student from the enjoyment of an expansive fellowship. The center of these activities was the Phi Chi house, located at 1326 Vermont Avenue. The men who were initiated Saturday night had been selected from among the medical students and had worn the pledge pin for some little time. They were: Thomas A. Wildman, L. A. Kelley, Francis X. Courtney, Richard W. Wilkinson, Raymond W. Murray, Daniel Dougherty, and Carroll A. McCoy.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES WILL BE REGULATED

Faculty Committee Appointed
To Work With Students In Maintaining Standards

DEAN ROSE IS CHAIRMAN

Interfraternity Committee Joins Faculty Members In Discussing Plans

A Faculty Committee on Social Relations, with Anna L. Rose, dean of women, as chairman, has been formed with the objective of drawing up a set of regulations to govern social activities of the various student organizations in the University. Closing a series of informal meetings, the committee last Thursday night met with a committee of three chosen from the Interfraternity Council to present the views of the fraternities in school.

Orders intended to be in force only until permanent regulations could be adopted for government of regular social functions were recently sent out by Dean Rose's office requiring organizations to have at their regular social gatherings at least three chaperons, two of whom must be faculty members. As a result the Interfraternity Council appointed the committee, consisting of W. Graham Fly, John B. Wright and Edwin S. Bettelheim, which met with the faculty committee.

Fraternity representatives expressed the view that inasmuch as these are matters which govern their social affairs they should have a representation on the Committee on Social Relations in order to promote confidence and mutual cooperation. Desiring to maintain the present high social standard of the University, the fraternity delegates expressed a willingness to cooperate in every way possible.

Several suggestions were advanced, one of which was that the Faculty Committee should be furnished with a list of chaperons in advance. It was also pointed out that at the present time most of the fraternities have very strict rules concerning fraternity parties, and that practically every organization has an alumni adviser who is a member of the fraternity, who usually attends such functions.

After the student representatives had presented their views they were excused, and the Faculty Committee proceeded into executive session. The students were assured, however, that the Faculty Committee had no desire to take drastic action or to interfere in any way with their social activities other than to maintain standards.

HARVARD OFFERS COURSES BEGINNING AT MIDYEAR

An announcement of special interest to students who contemplate graduate work in business is that the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration has definitely decided to inaugurate beginning classes in February as well as in September. This has been tried during the past three years with such success that the plan has been adopted as part of the permanent program.

One of the advantages of the beginning class in February is that it enables the man graduating at midyear to continue his work with no loss of time. The same courses are taught as are offered in September. Because the midyear class is limited to 125 in number students are able to receive closer attention from the instructor than would be the case in the class of 330 entering in the Fall. The smaller classes lend themselves to freer discussion which is of special advantage under the case method used in the Business School. Applications for enrollment in the February class of 1925, according to recent announcements, indicate that the limit of 125 will soon be reached.

Georges M. Weber, who graduated from George Washington in 1922, is now attending the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration.

PI BETA PHI TO AWARD GIRLS' ACTIVITY MEDAL

Pi Beta Phi, instead of the prizes in political science and education formerly offered, will offer this year an activity medal to that girl of the Senior Class who throughout her college course has done the most instructive work in the promotion of student activities among the women of the University. Award will be made by a chairman of Student Activity Committee, dean of women, and one other faculty member, who shall be appointed by the president of the University.

SENIOR CLASS BALL IS MARKED SOCIAL TRIUMPH

Although Some Lost Their Hats And Patience, Yet All Enjoyed The Event

Strains of "Good Night, Ladies," was only the beginning of the fun at the Senior Ball held last Friday night in the school gymnasium. A mad rush for the men's checking room followed, and when it all ended nearly everybody had an overcoat and a hat, although probably not always his own.

The ball itself was a marvelous success. With dozens of small pine trees and long climbing vines, the Blackstone florists so thoroughly transformed the otherwise bare interior of the gymnasium that it seemed like a shady nook in some great forest. Soft lights and wonderful music furnished by seven pieces of Rosey's Band was all that was needed to make it the most attractive dance yet given this year.

Dean and Mrs. Howard L. Hodgkins, Dean and Mrs. William C. Van Vleck, Dean and Mrs. Gilbert L. Hall, Prof. and Mrs. Robert W. Bolwell and Prof. and Mrs. Henry G. Doyle were among the honor guests present at the ball.

The proceeds of the Senior Ball, in excess of what will be required to defray the expenses of the ball, will be held in reserve to be applied toward the expenses of Senior Week at the end of the school year.

NEW RULES ADOPTED BY LAW FACULTY

who has a grade of "E" in one subject only and a general average of "C" for the year is allowed to take a make-up examination at the next regular examination period.

Students now in school will not be limited in the number of "D's" which they can count toward the degree, except that we already have a rule that a general average of "C" must be maintained. No student entering after January 1 will be allowed to count more than 16 semester hours of "D's" toward a degree. Under the new system the grade "D" "conditional pass," is so called because only a certain number of "D's" may be counted, the condition being that a grade better than "D" be made in other topics.

In the examinations to be held this semester no change will be made, so students receiving the grade of "E" in the coming examinations will be entitled to the regular make-up examinations in September, except as they may be barred by other provisions of existing rules.

SONG PRIZE OFFERED BY UNIVERSITY TRUSTEE

George Washington University songs with original music are in demand, and Louis Hertle, a trustee of the University, has offered a prize of $100 for the best one submitted. There is no definite time limit for the contest. The first song considered worthy of the prize will bring $100 to its composer.

The contest was begun last year, when Mr. Hertle recognized the need of varsity songs. John R. Lerner, also of the Board of Trustees, was offering a prize for words set to well-known music, so it was announced that this second award should be for both words and music. This narrowed the field of competition, and only one song was submitted. No prize was awarded.

The competition is open to all students. Songs may be turned in at the office of the president in the Administration Building.

TO HOLD MASONIC SMOKER

The Acacia Fraternity will give their second annual smoker to the Masons of the University February 5 at 8 p. m., at which several prominent Masons will be present.

The Entertainment Committee has given its assurance that there will be something doing every minute of the time. All Masons are asked to be present.
